

Flame Robin Petroica phoenicea

When to look:

*Commonly breeds
August to January*

Bright orange
breast and throat

White stripe
on folded wing

Similar species:

Scarlet Robin: has black upperparts and throat, red underparts and a larger white patch above its beak.

Other robins: won't have the white outermost tail feather nor white edging on the next feather.

Dark slate grey on top
and on wings

White lower belly and
undertail

Female: mostly grey-
brown, pale
buff strip
on wing,
outermost tail
feather mostly white

Images courtesy of David Cook Wildlife Photography